DCPSC Brings Together Utilities, District Agencies and Home Contractors for Community Training on Winter Preparedness

(WASHINGTON, D.C.) – The Public Service Commission of the District of Columbia (Commission) is hosting a “train the trainer” event for community, church and nonprofit leaders to kick off its Second Annual Winter Ready DC Campaign.

The Commission is concerned that many District residents may not be prepared to handle the costs associated with upcoming winter energy bills or prepared for winter-related emergencies.

Winter Ready DC brings together representatives of utilities, District agencies and home contractors to provide community leaders with resources, programs and practical ways of preparing for winter to share within their community. After the event, DCPSC will provide Winter Ready DC presentations and information tables throughout District neighborhoods.
